What is Eternal Life?

4th Sunday of Lent
Laetare Sunday
14 Mar 2021

2 Chr 36: 14-16. 19-23
Eph 2:4-10
Jn 3:14-21

In response to God's gift of the Decalogue last Sunday, we affirmed the saving truth of God's precepts with Peter's profession, "You, Lord, have the message of eternal life." (Jn 6:68 – responsorial psalm)

This profession was Peter's response to Jesus' "Bread of Life" discourse. Many of Jesus' disciples found his Eucharistic teachings "offensive", but Peter understood that "eternal life" was Jesus himself. Jesus had repeatedly linked this hitherto elusive gift to faith in his divine person: "... [work] for food that endures to eternal life, which the Son of Man will give you" (v27); "... everyone who looks to the Son and believes in him shall have eternal life..." (v40); "... the one who believes [I am from God] has eternal life" (v47); "Whoever eats my flesh and drinks my blood has eternal life..." (v55)

In John, Jesus first spoke of himself as both giver and source of eternal life in his conversation with Nicodemus (our gospel text today). Jesus said it was necessary to be "born again... of water and the Spirit" to see the Kingdom of God (vv 3,5,7 & 8). He foretold his Passion as the event that would inaugurate this regeneration. Just as the Israelites in the desert were saved from deadly snake bites simply by obeying God and looking at the bronze serpent lifted up by Moses (cf Num 21:6-9), those who now look upon Christ "lifted up" on the cross and believe that he is God's Son would gain "eternal life." (Jn 3:14-17) The lifting up of the bronze

"Eternal life...is not an 'unending succession of days in the calendar' ..."
– Pope Emeritus Benedict XVI, serpent thus "pointed symbolically toward salvation by [Jesus,] the incarnate Word." (CCC 2130)

In his encyclical on the theological virtue of Hope, Pope Emeritus Benedict XVI posed the question, "Eternal Life – what is it? Do we really want this – to live eternally?" (Spe Salvi, Christian Hope n.10) He highlights a struggle we all face, "To continue living for ever -endlessly - appears more like a curse than a gift. Death, admittedly, one would wish to postpone for as long as possible. But to live always, without end - this, all things considered, can only be monotonous and ultimately unbearable."

He says Jesus' gift of "eternal life", therefore, is not an "unending succession of days in the calendar." Rather it is "...like plunging into the ocean of infinite love, a moment in which time - the before and after - no longer exists. This is how Jesus expresses it in Saint John's Gospel: 'I will see you again and your hearts will rejoice, and no one will take your joy from you' (Jn16:22). We must think along these lines if we want to understand the object of [eternal life]... to understand what it is that our faith, our being with Christ, leads us to expect." (SS n.12)

"Eternal life" then, is to believe and be in God's "ocean of infinite love" for the world revealed in the crucified and resurrected Christ. Jesus himself had affirmed this, says Pope Emeritus, "Jesus...who had come so that we might have life and have it in its fullness, in abundance (cf. Jn 10:10), has also explained to us what 'life' means: 'this is eternal life, that they know you the only true God, and Jesus Christ whom you have sent' (Jn 17:3). Life in its true sense is not something we have exclusively in or from ourselves: it is a relationship... If we are in relation with him who does not die, who is Life itself and Love itself, then we are in life. Then we 'live.'" (SS n 27)

This 4th Sunday of Lent is also called Laetare Sunday or "Rejoice! Sunday." There is indeed much to rejoice today as St Paul reminds us, "God loved us with so much love that...when we were dead through our sins, he brought us to life with Christ...and raised us up with him and gave us a place with him in heaven..." (Eph 2:4-7) As we adore Christ, truly present in the Eucharist, lifted up today by his priest at the altar for our salvation, let us rejoice in God's infinite love – that even while still here on earth, by Baptism and the Eucharist, man can already possess the great gift of "eternal life" in Christ.

SFX Parish Lent Activity 2021

Do you know of anyone who may not be tech-savvy enough to register and book for Mass, or attend Mass online? This Lent, let us Rise Up and Reach Out to our fellow parishioners and friends, by inviting them back for Mass! Assure them of the safety protocols that are already in place and go the extra mile by helping them register/book for a Mass slot. Alternatively, you may want to invite them to your home, inviting no more than 8 persons, to attend Mass online, together.

Let us be a Church to one another in this time of need. Let us Ignite and Shine with Faith, remembering the words of our Saviour, "Where two or three are gathered in my Name, there I will be." Matthew 18:20.

RCIA – Rite of Election 2021

From inquirers to Catechumens and now to Elects. On 23 February, 17 Catechumens and 5 Candidates together with their respective godparents and sponsors gathered at John Paul II Hall for the ceremony of the Rite of Election (ROE).

WHAT IS RITE OF ELECTION?

The ROE, usually a diocesan-wide celebration of Catechumens celebrated by the Archbishop during the first weekend of Lent, is more than just showing the Catechumens that they are joining a much larger Catholic Church made up of many parishes and a final bid to get them “enrolled” for baptism. It is another step towards making that choice (while being chosen by God), to become initiated into a life in Christ.

Due to the pandemic, each parish under the Archdiocese of Singapore celebrated the ROE in their own respective home Church. Upon the testimony of their godparents, the baptised community then affirms the readiness of our Catechumens to celebrate the sacraments of initiation at the Easter Vigil (Holy Saturday). Catechumens then enrol their names in the Book of Elect as a pledge of fidelity. The priest, who acts as the Bishop's delegate, then declares the Catechumens to be members of the Elect. Intercessions are also prayed for the Elects and Candidates to conclude the rite.

Over the next five weeks of Lent, three scrutinies - rites for self-searching and repentance meant to deliver the Elects from the power of sin and Satan, to protect them against temptation, and to give them strength in Christ, along with the presentations of the Creed and Lord's Prayer will take place. This period concludes with the celebration of the sacraments of initiation (baptism, confirmation and the Eucharist).

“Sitting throughout the ROE was like hearing God re-establishing his covenant with me, that I am going to be the ‘bride’ who is committed to the groom. This is going to be once, now and forever.”

Erni Saraswati

“I have found strength through my new-found faith in Christianity. I am thankful for the patience shown to me when I was doubtful. I am now more at peace with a faith that I can relate to. When I signed the book of Elect, it was a feeling of gratitude and thanksgiving that I am now one step closer to being one with God through baptism and the Eucharist.”

Janetita Phukempreyoon

“The ROE signifies the completion of an important milestone in my RCIA journey and is a reminder that baptism is just around the corner! I felt truly blessed by the presence of my uncle and auntie-in-law as godparents, as well as to have my wife on this RCIA journey with me. I look forward to growing closer to God and living out his ways.”
