Disciples Making Disciples

The Beatitudes – Our Vocation

6th Sunday in Ordinary Time
16 Feb 2025

Jer 17:5-8
1 Cor 15:12,16-20
Lk 6:17, 20-26

“The Beatitudes are at the heart of Jesus’ preaching. They take up the promises made to the chosen people since Abraham. The Beatitudes fulfil the promises by ordering them no longer merely to the possession of a territory, but to the Kingdom of heaven” (CCC 1716).

They serve like an instruction manual to guide us to our ultimate home in heaven. Yet, when we pray “thy kingdom come” in the Lord’s prayer, the Beatitudes must also come to fore as the way to make the Kingdom of God present, here and now.

In this foundational teaching, Jesus reverses the understanding of blessedness for the people of his time. The belief then was that those who suffered poverty or were afflicted in other ways were bearing the effects of personal sin, or that of their ancestors. Conversely, wealth and power were signs of blessings and favour from God. Imagine how radical Jesus’ words would have sounded to the people listening, as he proclaimed, “How happy are you who are poor ... who are hungry ... who weep ...” (Lk 6:20-22). Even more provocative and challenging are the four corresponding woes that follow the blessings (Lk 6:24-26). What was Jesus trying to say here? The poor and suffering are blessed in his view because their poverty disposes

*“The Beatitudes are at the heart of Jesus’
preaching” (CCC 1716)*

them to depend on and receive the abundant providence of God, who came through Jesus to save the last, the least and the lost. The Kingdom of God is already among them. In contrast, the rich are warned that they risk losing the greatest treasure of heaven if they remain possessed by their possessions. When their riches become their gods, they will lose their salvation.

St. Thomas Aquinas, the great Doctor of the Church, explained that man cannot live without joy – that is why one deprived of spiritual joys goes over to carnal pleasures (cf. Summa Theologica I-II, Qn. 3, Art. 1). Authentic joy can only be found in God. But many desperately seek happiness through temporal gratification. Those who build their identity on such substitutes fall apart when they lose their riches or status – a hard lesson that God must always come first.

Jesus offers the Beatitudes – holy living – as the answer to our search for authentic joy. Perhaps he was describing himself in the Beatitudes as the role model for any disciple who wishes to be ‘blessed’. In the present day, one of the most common substitutes for God is material wealth, the accumulation of things. To grow spiritually, however, we must let go of false attachments. St John of the Cross beautifully describes how detachment actually brings freedom. He explains, “To reach satisfaction in all, desire satisfaction in nothing; to come to the knowledge of all, desire the knowledge of nothing; to come to possess all, desire the possession of nothing; to arrive at being all, desire to be nothing” (The Ascent of Mount Carmel). “The Beatitudes confront us with decisive choices concerning earthly goods; they purify our hearts in order to teach us to love God above all things. The beatitude of heaven sets the standards for discernment in the use of earthly goods in keeping with the law of God” (CCC 1728-1729).

To live the Beatitudes in our lives, deep interior conversion is necessary to guard against self-centredness or a scarcity mindset, lest we hoard and contribute to social injustice. The Beatitudes also remind us of our connections with one another. God’s kingdom is established when divisions between people disappear, and we share our blessings – time, talent and treasure. Jesus’ teachings offer us an invitation and a choice. The path we choose will determine our happiness here and our destiny in eternity.

As we begin the Year of the Snake, we can ask the Lord to help us prosper in holiness and righteous living. Consider what to shed from our lives that does not serve God’s divine purpose. Pray to be exemplary stewards of our blessings, and to always seek God, the giver of those blessings first, so that his Kingdom here on earth can be established.

1Cor12 Fortify Camp

From 17-19 January, 40 youths and post-confirmation from SFX attended a 2 day 1 night camp, where they learned about active discipleship and forged new Christian friendships. Through a balance of play and prayer, the youths gained a sense of ownership over their faith post-confirmation and understood the importance of community on their faith journey.

Fortify is the youth programme of SFX, open to those who have received the Sacrament of Confirmation. Join us as we explore what it means to be a disciple of Christ and walk with fellow brothers and sisters!

Do reach out to Sarah (8783 0504), Matthew (82286175) or 1Cor12@sfxchurch.sg if you have any further queries!

Here are some testimonies:

"I was initially hesitant about attending the camp as I did not know many of the Fortify members and I had a busy schedule. However, after getting to know them through group activities, prayers and worship, it allowed me to further open my heart to God while also teaching me the importance of community in church."

 ~ Howard Lee, post-confirmation

"When I first received the invitation for the Fortify camp, I was hesitant, fearing I'd feel like an outsider in their close-knit community. Nevertheless, I decided to give it a chance. Like any camp, the activities were enjoyable, but what I couldn't have anticipated was the level of trust and vulnerability among everyone. They openly shared their struggles and insecurities and were met with hugs and encouragement. The warmth of everyone was incredibly welcoming, creating a safe space where I felt accepted. It was comforting to feel God's love so strongly through these people I had just met. It was even more moving how, despite distractions and challenges in their lives, everyone still showed up, brought together by our faith, and it made me appreciate the care and support found in community."
 ~ Sarah Kesavan, post-confirmation

"I felt that this Fortify retreat was a really fruitful time for me to reflect on my relationship with God. I related to one of the sessions where the presenter was sharing about the post retreat high and how it's very normal for this spiritual high to drop. I felt like this spoke out to me because whenever I serve retreats for the younger ones, I would always experience these post retreat highs. However, when the high is over I would often get very discouraged and would crave this feeling of spiritual high in my weekly cell group sharings. And when I don't, I get easily frustrated and feel disheartened or even abandoned."

Hearing the sharings of others who had also experienced these kinds of spiritual highs, I felt that throughout the retreat God has revealed to me that even at times where I am not feeling this spiritual high, he has always been by my side."
~ Timothy Tai, member of Fortify

St Jerome Library: New Children Books on the Mass

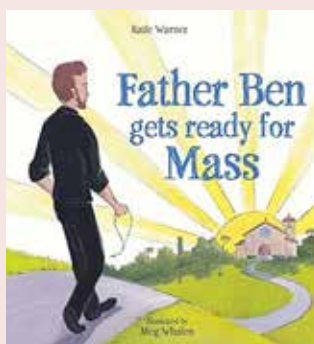

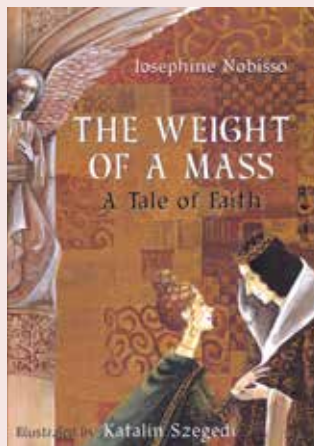

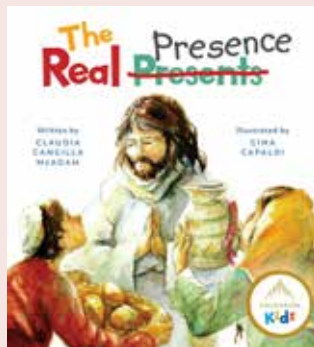

How can we help our children appreciate the wonderful miracle of bread and wine transformed into the Body and Blood of Christ at every single Mass?

Join Zedekiah and Abigail as they share in the first Eucharist with Jesus in the Upper Room in Jerusalem. They realised that just believing in Jesus' words that the bread and wine had now become His Body and Blood opened their eyes and helped them understand in "The Real Presence".

You can also join a poor widow in a bread shop when the baker mocks her Mass offering as payment for a piece of stale bread. Can you really weigh on a scale to find out the value of a Mass? Be totally surprised by Josephine Nobisso's touching story in "The Weight of A Mass".

Pop by St Jerome Library today to check out our new books on the Mass:

- "The Real Presence" by Claudia Cangilla McAdam
- "The Weight of A Mass - A Tale of Faith" by Josephine Nobisso
- "Father Ben gets ready for Mass" by Katie Warner
